

MUST-HAVES for mountain riding.

Rider: Brent Rasmussen
Photo: Stephen Clark

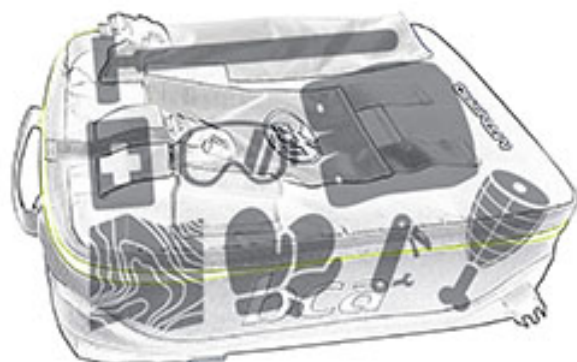

1. Hands-on avalanche course

2. Knowledgeable partner

3. Safety equipment (see below).

FLOAT MTNPRO VEST
AVALANCHE AIRBAG

MTNPRO TUNNEL BAG

Avalanche Safety

Transceiver (i.e. Tracker)
(on body >8"/20cm from electronics)
Avalanche airbag (i.e. Float)
Avalanche shovel/probe

Communication

Two-way radio (i.e. BC Link)
GPS satellite messenger
Cell phone

Insulation

Extra gloves
Extra layers
Extra goggles

Navigation

Map/Compass
GPS navigation device

Nutrition

Extra food/lunch

Nutrition

Energy bars
Water

Emergency

Bivy sack
Lighter/waterproof matches
Survival kit
First aid kit
Headlamp
Extra batteries

Repair

Multi tool
Driver/bit set
Extra hardware/spare parts
Duct tape
Tow strap

Extrication

Wood/snow saw
Second shovel (When digging out your sled in avalanche terrain, don't take off your Float pack!)

The most trusted name in backcountry safety.™

For more details visit: backcountryaccess.com/education